Project updates for this week

Work around the pool was front and center this week in anticipation of Monday's opening (more on that later). We continued to mow and work on work orders. Some decks were painted that were in dire need of it, we hope to tackle more as the summer moves on.

Upcoming Work

Building 43's roof is done. Our consultant, Room Management, will be walking the project to come up with any punch list items. Building 11 has started at the North end of the building and clerestory windows will be replaced Monday followed by more roof work as weather permits.

Rosado is continuing their pruning & weeding. They anticipate being on the property Tuesday – Thursday for the next couple of weeks.

Electric Vehicle Chargers

We have seen some use of our new electric vehicle chargers here at Nagog. I know there are some EV's out in the village as well as some plug-in hybrids. For those of you who have used the chargers, please let me know your experience and if there's anything that you'd like addressed.

For those who have yet to purchase an electric vehicle, these chargers can accommodate most any car currently in production. If you plug in at the end of every day, you start with full range (which varies based on the make & model) and will allow you to "fill up" quickly. The average EV can re-fuel at the rate of about 25 miles of range per hour that the car is plugged in.

Opening of the Pool

We're finally ready to open the Pool!

Sign ups can be made at:

<https://www.signupgenius.com/go/10c0d4dafad2faaf8c70-2020>

There are new rules for the pool this year and copies of those can be obtained at this website as well. There is a mandatory waiver which must be signed each time you use the pool and additional information must be provided (phone and/or email address) so we can properly track residents and alert them if anyone should come down sick.

We're limiting the number of people at the pool (residents only) to 20 people per 1 ¾ Hour time slot (15 minutes between reservations for cleaning) and keeping it to 1 slot per day, 3 times per week so that everyone has a chance to use the pool.

An additional pool attendant will be on site who's job it is to make sure the rules are followed. Please be courteous to these people and allow them to help make sure our pool is a safe place and in accordance with the local and state guidelines.

Parking Rules

There have been several calls about parking issues. Please review the rules on parking to make sure you're in compliance. Visitor spaces should only be used for that purpose and no longer than 7 days. While individual spaces are not assigned there are specific lots assigned to your unit.
